

Martian Colony

Innovative, full of hooks with deep grooves, each melody driven track has been skillfully crafted, evident all over this recording. Martian Colony pays respect to their fundamental roots while blending Hip Hop, R&B, Latin rhythms and dance music. The Martian Colony crew enjoys telling stories, and each track dictate immediate statements.

G-La is punctual, pronounced and articulate as he delivers, keeping you involved in his flow. G-La openly expresses confidence that forces you to pay attention when he speaks. G-La displays his talent and flexibility, skillfully going from in-your-face warnings, to sweet sentimentality, to straight-up politikin, delivered with an artistic flare. His vocal tonality and sensitivity has been compared with the great Tupac.

Uptown has the ability to lead, delivering sweet soulful choruses that punctuate each track. Her melodic blend of R&B and Latin influence keep all of these tracks close to the street-organic. Uptown also displays her ability to flow featured on "Let Me Be Honest" and "It's A Sin".

Martian Colony

BIOGRAPHY

Early in the year 2004 (Earth years) the inhabitants of Martian Colony (HD1-01) were discovered by the obscure, secretive record producer bLACKy-Amen.

He was originally attracted to their landing zone (LD2-02) by the "Pulse Energy" bursts created by tribal leader G-La.

G-La as we have come to find out, was the victor in many free-style wars from Bushwick Brooklyn to North Amityville Strong Island To Mars Colony VOLTA 17.

Blacky, having been trained by Russ DeSalvo (Paul McCartney, Celine Dion, etc...)-immediately recognized the possibilities. He knew his own squad (ERNI, PESO) having played such venues as Roseland Ballroom NYC and having combined 5 Top 40 spin credits (Gavin, FMQB, N.M.W.) would match perfectly with tribal leader G-La.

A gathering of clans had been called. It was decided that a recording would be created, one that would combine the best elements (XV(, 11A, W6, etc.) of all terrestrial music. This recording has gone on to achieve extremely positive reviews from radio. According to radio market reports, "Trajectory" contains SEVERAL potential chart-topping hits with four tracks earning the highest probability of top 40 status. Both on Earth and the Universe.

To complete this project 2 Super Beings would be needed!

SUPER BEING 1-Uptown, manifested by Gamma Factor 6, would sing the hooks on the recording of "Trajectory." An Interstellar reviewer would later say "One of the most versatile, beautiful voices I have heard!"

SUPER BEING 2-Created by crystallization of "Gingero19" would be taken from a family on Earth with a long history in entertainment. Her paternal entity worked with "Stars" such as Grammy Winner Eddie Palmieri.

This being, known as Remidee would sing the live hooks and prepare for the next recording.

CENTURION J.J.- will answer any further questions. (606)
